

Social Media for Link Building

“Whenever you pay money to a social media consultant to try to show up on Digg, you are not paying for links.

You are funding some creativity; you are sponsoring your page for some creativity.

It’s not like you held a gun to anyone and said "Okay, you have to link to me". The people who link to the site are linking because it’s something compelling instead.

So, there is still some editorial choice there.”
